

To Prof. C. F. Wright

probable mistake in date of year

Worcester Apr 22 67

Dear Sir

I have received your obliging letter of March 20th and am glad that you struck my article on Castrin worth printing.
When I wrote it, I had not access to Müller's first series, & I perceive now that I have consulted it, that my statement of his views requires a little correction. About the 27th or 28th page, I introduced a quotation from Müller's second series pp 271-6, & Strom produced to state the difference between Müller & Castrin's views;

The difference between the theory of Müller & Littré and that of Castrin may be thus stated: Müller & Littré suppose the classical Latin to be the basis of all the Romance languages

Please correct Strom by inserting after classical Latin the qualification in its incorrect popular form again, on the next page.

For: Castrin makes the old