My Dear Wife

I presume you must have been some what disappointed that you did not get a letter from me yesterday, but the fact was I was not able to write. I was attacked with a severe dysentery on Monday and I have suffered very much - but I am getting better very fast, though I am not well. It all owing to my eating that green corn. I have done considerable work today.

We have not learned how soon we shall leave here. Our Regt is to be mustered in tomorrow (Thursday)

I was honored with a
