My Dear Sister.

I rec'd a paper from you last night with a line enclosed saying you had heard our Col, Lt Col & had resigned. Whenever you send a paper I want you to write something, it tis only a line. I feel disapointed when I open a paper and find no line there. By the way I may as well say to you to be careful what you write in papers, for if I should not happen to be at home (what a place to call home) some one else might think there was no harm in opening a paper, if it was not theirs. Such a thing never has happened but it might well enough. Our Col, Maj, & Adj't, did resign
