

Richard. The September "Stuffing" (October Issue) will be on Thursday, September 26th starting at 5:00 p.m. at our office, above The Daily Bread, in Richmond, Vermont. Please feel free to stop by, say hello and help out.

We are also looking for new distribution volunteers. We currently have routes open in Bennington and Springfield (VT) as well as Keene, Lebanon, and Hanover in New Hampshire. Distribution Routes take an hour or less a month to complete. This is a great way to help keep Out in the Mountains out in the community. If you are interested in becoming a distribution volunteer please contact us at circulation@mountainpridemediacorp.org or call us at 802-434-6486.

Mountain Pride Media is seeking Board and Committee Members. These are longer term positions without which we could not publish. On the paid front, we're looking for Ad Sales representatives, who sell ads part-time to businesses and make a small commission while helping to support our community's newspaper and make sure it continues to grow in quality. If you have skills that would be beneficial to Mountain Pride Media and Out in the Mountains or if you just want to get more involved, please contact us at mpm@mountainpridemediacorp.org. We would love to meet with you.

Mountain Pride Media is excited to be offering Entertainment Books for sale again this year. A portion of each sale is donated back to Mountain Pride Media. These books make great gifts with 2-for-1 offers and discount coupons for up to 50% off from a wide range of local and national restaurants, hotels, resorts, entertainment venues, and other merchants. The Vermont Edition sells for $30 and can be picked up from our Richmond Office or a board member. You can also order online through our website (www.mountainpridemediacorp.org), just look for the Entertainment Book banner ad. Don't forget your out-of-state family and friends: there are over 150 fifty editions available!

SafeSpace Now Includes Incident Documentation

SafeSpace is an LGBTQQ anti-violence organization that supports queer victims of hate crimes, domestic violence, and sexual assault. Our organization strongly believes that a vast majority of the attacks against and within the lesbian, gay, bisexual, transgender, queer and questioning community are never reported. Even if victims and/or witnesses don't report incidents of violence and discrimination to the police, it is important that they report these incidents to SafeSpace – these reports underlie our organization's advocacy work and help us to define the problems and develop appropriate responses.

In addition to incident documentation SafeSpace also provides the following services to LGBTQQ survivors of violence. All of our services are free and confidential.

▼ SafeSpace Support Line – Victim advocates are available to answer your call from 10-6, Monday through Friday. We provide emotional support, referrals, and advocacy to LGBTQQ survivors of violence.

▼ Direct Advocacy – Victim advocates are available to accompany you to court, the hospital, the police, or other agencies and to assist you in obtaining the services you need.

▼ One-on-one support – Victim advocates provide one-on-one support which may include safety planning, education, referrals, as well as emotional support.

▼ Support Group – SafeSpace offers a support group to give survivors a place to tell their stories, share information, and offer and receive support. These groups are offered periodically and usually run for 12 consecutive weeks.

▼ Education and Outreach Programs – We provide informational programs for the purpose of educating people about violence in the LGBTQQ community.

If you want to learn more about SafeSpace programs and services please call Kara DeLeonardis, MSW, SafeSpace Executive Director, or Mike Bense or Martha Dyson, Advocates, @ 863-0003 (V/TTY), 866-869-7341 (toll-free), e-mail Info@SafeSpaceVT.org, fax 863-0004, P.O. Box 158, Burlington, VT 05402. ▼
