R.U.1.2? Builds Community Partnerships

Whether it's bringing people together to think about important issues like the intersections of race and gender or just to enjoy good music, your R.U.1.2? Community Center is building on community partnerships or beginning new ones.

We begin on Friday, May 9 when we join Vermont Stage Company to present a benefit performance of To Kill a Mockingbird, Harper Lee's timeless story of racial prejudice and dignified courage. The show is at 7:30 p.m. at the FlynnSpace, 153 Main Street, Burlington. Join us at 6:15 pm for a pre-show discussion about the intersections of gender and race. Benefit tickets are available from R.U.1.2? Community Center at 860-7812. We accept Mastercard, Visa, checks and cash!

Next, if you couldn't get enough of Burlington's bubblegum indy-pop band, The Smittens, at our 5th Annual Community Dinner and Silent Auction, don't miss "Q-Squared at Red Square." The Smittens will open for the Vermont installment of the northeastern tour of Hawaiian queer band Juha, a hip-hop crew with a queer Arab twist, that The Portland Mercury says "thrive(s) on the fringe of both gay and hip hop cultures." "Q-Squared at Red Square" will begin at 9 pm on Friday, May 16th at Red Square Bar and Grill, 136 Church Street, Burlington. Admission is $5, benefiting your community center. Tickets are available at the door or in advance from the Center.

Finally, coming up for Pride month, R.U.1.2? is working with organizations including Haymarket People's Fund, Vermont Anti-Racism Action Team, Outright

Vermont, P.R.I.D.E. Vermont, and the Women Of Color Alliance to present Brother/Outsider, the powerful documentary about gay and black civil rights activist Bayard Rustin, organizer of the 1963 March on Washington. It will be followed by a discussion of Stonewall and Juneteenth and what they continue to mean for equality and civil rights in this country. This June 21st event will be free and open to the public. Look for more details in next month's Out in the Mountains. ▼
