

ROYAL MILLS

Franklin, Ct. Nov. 29, 1884

Dear friend:

Remembering my promise to you I will try to fulfill it. I hope you arrived at home safe Friday. I think it was at Fitcher there was so much snow on the track that an Engine and snow plow was sent ahead to clear the track. The conductor said, "where was the young lady who sat with you going?" I told him and he said he thought perhaps you were going to go on the Brd L. road, ^{and that} (I think it was ^(Brd L.)) you could not go for the train would not come that night. I thought it was nice for you that you did not wish to go farther. I was the only lady passenger from Sheldon to Highgate but was not very lonesome for we didn't go