Johnson, It.
Thursday-noon.

Dear Papa:-

Will you try and send me a little money to-morrow? I do not know as you know I am out. Have written it to Carrie though several times.

I can't live on faith and hope of getting some much longer.

Carrie's time must be rather limited I should think, often as I hear from her.

But I try and take it for granted you must be all well there at home or I would hear occasionally.

Am getting along with my school work as well as may be expected.

Love to all,
Kate
