

Johnson, Vt.
April 3, 1888

Friend J. J. -

I am now
about to take the liberty of writing you a letter as I intend to do by the whole class.

We used to be on pretty intimate terms, but we can be friends
now.

Our old Johnson "friend" has left for the gun
pastures of Kalamville I don't suppose that I ought to talk so about her to you but my
