

Johnson, Vt.
April 26, 1888.

Dear friend:-

Since you
gave me the liberty
of writing to you, when of course I will feel I take a great deal
of comfort in reading & writing letters to my friends.

Everything in Johnson
is quiet & the times
are dull.

I sometimes wish that I were in school now,
but when I give it
a second thought
