

Burlington, Vt. 18th August 1873.

Hon George F. Marsh, Italy.

My dear Sir. I am disappointed in the execution of the enclosed photographs of the Ethan Allen monument and statue—they are too small and black—but as I said I would forward you some as soon as I could obtain them, here they are, a front, north & east side view. The trees are in the way of a south side view, which, I think, is the best. Every stranger, who comes to town, must visit Green Mount Cemetery, and all admire the statue. I have been awaiting a letter from you for some weeks in response to the account of the inauguration and celebration, & not to mine of the 21st ultimo. I feel like shaking hands with you over the grave of Ethan—I want to see you—when are you coming over?—you cannot think of dying without seeing Vermont again—at all events let me hear from you—and believe me to be yours respectfully and truly

John W. Pomeroy