Genl. Marsh Esqr

De Sir

Yours of Feb^y 23rd arrived last night. We are glad to know of your continued good health. In regard to the missing book I think for once in your life you must be mistaken for Mother says she "fried up things" on your table after you left and is positive that there was no such book upon it. I dont know of a single book having been taken from the office except a few that George took and that was not among them.

It is barely possible that Mr Torrey may have it but he is so small that I cannot see him and I fear he will never be any better. Miss Wheeler seems better and I see her out riding once in a while. Mr & Mrs James Hickok are still at St Paul and I
