My, dear Maria

To day is Sunday and I will try and spend a few minutes in writing you I wrote you a few hurried lines yesterday but presume you will not be able to read them I was in such an awful hurry but I trust you would be glad to get even those I rec<sup>d</sup> from you yesterday three
- fine good letters and was very glad to know the children had got along so well I always had a horrid fear of that disease and am very thankful that the little ones got along so well and hope when I again hear from you little Fred will be able to lean the parlor - I guess I will give you a history of the past few days in which a few very important
