Wof Run Roads Va

April 13th 1863

My Dear Wife:

The Adjt talks of going in to Washington today, & if he does he will see you all. I have written you once this morning by mail & directed it to Jay's Hotel Corner of 8th & Penn Ave. I shall direct your letters so until I hear from you again. Send out a line by the Adjt. telling me how to direct to you.

I am well this morning & am not quite so blue as I was yesterday -

I was lonely enough I assure you after you was gone. Nelson moved the cot in here & I slept on the bedstead - I suppose you had not much time to be lonely as you had company all the time -

You must take good care of yourself & I will see you as soon as I can. If I do not see you & cannot send you any money for a few days you must borrow some of Mrs. Nichols if she has any to spare. If she has none you must write to Mr. Rhody & he will
