

May 18th / 64

My blessed darling wife

I have passed through another day of fighting and am all right yet, thank God for it - Last night at dark we moved our position from the extreme left of our line to the extreme right and expected to make a big attack at daylight but owing to somebody blundering over the orders we did not get around in time so we had a good lively Skirmish and to night come back to our old ground again on the left and I should not be surprised