My Dear Homer

Your letter was recd a day or two since and I take my pen this Sunday morning before breakfast to answer it.

I am very sorry it has been so you could not come to us this summer, for it is doubtful if we get a sight at you as we pass through N.Y. possibly we may, though we shall not know ourselves when we are going long enough beforehand to write you & let you know we are coming. Last year when our Regt went, we only knew it a few hours before it started.

In regard to the number of our Regt we do not know
