

Camp Griffin Nov. 23.

My own angel,

I am too much disappointed to write you again. I expected to have something to write about the this district the same old story still. I had reason to expect an attack would certainly be made early this week but the week has passed without the attack. It may be deferred only but I shall wait patiently now & not expect to tell it to come. The previous Wednesday was quite grand. Our brigade went on a foraging expedition Thursday which was very successful. Movement towards Vienna. I believe I never was
