My Sweet Wife

I must apologise for not writing for a whole week. Did you think my darling angel husband had almost forgotten you? Darling it seems to me I have thought of you more than ever, and I have set several times to write to you, but have had to do something at those times & so the week has passed & I have been engaged all the time. I was Field Officer of the Day one day when it wasn't my turn, & the next day we turned out for a fight but the enemy ran just before we got there. We started to cut them
