My Darling Wife -

I recd Annie's letter last evening saying that you were sick & not able to write - What is the matter Darling! How long have you been sick! were you careless! I thought sometime ago you were getting careless. Can't you write a line! Are you sick a bed! You ought to remember that you must exercise very great caution now continually - I didn't know why you did not write. Didn't think of your being sick. Don't you want to see me! Arent you sorry you are in such a delicate condition! I am because you are so careless. Do please be careful & take care of yourself! What should I do if you were sick. I cannot get away possibly - You must not be sick. What a nice friendly letter Nellie Truff writes - Aint she good good!
