Advertising Coordinator
Needed

OITM has been in existence for over a year now and hopefully, will be here well into the future. This newspaper is produced entirely through volunteer effort. We need more people to get involved in this. So, in case you're one of those people who has been dying to get involved, listen up.

One of the main areas that we need help is in advertising. We need someone who would like to coordinate the advertising for each issue. This would involve contacting potential advertisers and making sure they get all their materials in by the layout/paste-up deadline.

We also need people to become involved in writing the articles for the paper. Article topics are generally decided on at our monthly meetings (see calendar). If you have an idea of your own - great! We welcome any and all articles so long as they adhere to our editorial policy. If there is something that interests you, it will probably be of interest to other people. So, write it and submit it.

We also need people to help out with editing, typing and paste-up. If you have computer skills, how about helping out with our subscriptions?

If you have been thinking about getting involved, please do. We need you now.
