

Rural Culture

Founded in February, Rural Culture draws together those who share an interest in horticulture, agriculture, ecology, and self-sustaining farming. With 37 members, the group is growing rapidly and welcomes all. To obtain a copy of the newsletter send a SASE to : Rural Culture, PO Box 115, Guildhall, VT 05905 or for more info and the date and location of the next meeting call Clint at 644-8865 or Craig at 563-2938. ▼

Still Seeking Back Issues

Thanks to Dot Brauer and Carrie Coy for their generous donations of back issues of Out in the Mountains for the Vermont Historical Society Archives. We are still looking for copies of a few rare issues: Vol 1 #8 (Sept 86), Vol IV #9 (Dec 89) and Vol V #2 (April/May 90). If you have any or all of these issues and are willing to donate them to complete the archives please send them to OITM, PO Box 177, Burlington, VT 05402 or contact Deb Lashman (660-2713). ▼

Legal Document Workshop

Moira

For probably longer than we should have, my partner and I have put off doing some of the necessary paperwork that would ensure our rights and wishes if we were incapacitated or terminally ill. I guess like most people we just didn't want to think about this unpleasantness.

Seeing the Legal Documents Workshop on the VT Pride Day Flyer made us realize again all the reasons why this is especially important for same sex couples.
