

FLAMING SENSES
the new gay aesthetic paintings, installation art and video

University of Vermont
Francis Colburn Gallery
Williams Hall, second floor
Burlington, Vermont
Phone: 802-656-2014

August 31-September 16, 1994
Reception: September 7, 5-7 pm

Gallery hours: Monday-Friday 9-5

"Thematically the works are frankly homosexual, but the subtext concerns the state of society and the dilemma of homosexual men in a culture of hostility." Paul Stitleman, Bennington Banner.

"With so much artwork concerning feminism and female gender around, it is refreshing and rewarding to view an exhibition that looks at men with intelligence, sensitivity, humor and soul." Daniel Brown, Everybody's News, Cincinnati.

Above: detail from installation "THIS IS OUR BED"