Voices That Care ...

MONTPELIER -- The third annual VCLGR Conference, held on October 28, 1995, at Montpelier High School, ended with its own Queer Town Meeting. During this time, attendees came up to the microphone and spoke their minds. Here's a few snippets of what they had to say ...

- I object to the word 'queer' ... I feel that 'queer' makes lesbians invisible, and a large part of lesbian oppression is invisibility. We've been subsumed under generics before and that's never really worked for us.
- I'm not sure if Vermont Coalition for Lesbian and Gay Rights really speaks to who we are because we are not only just lesbians and gays. We are transgendered, bisexual, and we have a whole list ... I'm bisexual. I don't feel a part of 'Lesbian and Gay Rights.' But 'Queer Town Meeting' makes me go, 'Oh, it's about me too.'

- If we don't take words like 'queer' for ourselves and redefine them and create for them a new meaning, then they retain the power they hold.
- I'd like us to talk about what we should be doing as a community, not what we should be calling ourselves, because our enemies don't care about that.
- I'd like to see us invite Barbara Snelling or Howard Dean. It's our responsibility to include straight society.
- I encourage everyone to go to their own town meeting this year and come out ... Be out and things will change.
- The record in Vermont is that so far the only openly gay or lesbian people in the Vermont Legislature have been openly gay -- no lesbians. We've had great gay men in the Legislature ... but it's time for us to have lesbians. We need to get out, visible lesbians in public office.
