OITM Now Available in Braille Format

Out in the Mountains is now available free of charge in Braille. Funding for the new format comes in part from the Haymarket People's Fund, which awarded OITM a grant to increase the overall scope and accessibility of the paper, particularly in regards to minority and differently abled populations.

"We're excited to be adding this new service," says Editor Hugh Coyle. "Our Web Masters Kathie Sawyer and Tracy Buttles have been working with Board Member Nat Harrison to expand our readership beyond strictly visual print, and their efforts have already produced positive results. We need to remain aware of the vast diversity of the gay, lesbian, bisexual, and transgendered communities, and do all that we can to make Out in the Mountains available to everyone within those communities."

Those wishing to arrange for free delivery of the Braille edition should send a note to OITM at PO Box 177, Burlington VT 05402-0177, or send an e-mail to oitm@together.net. Copies of the Braille version should be available at the same time the print version reaches news stands. ▼

The next issue of OITM will be out on May 3rd.
Deadline for materials is April 15th.
