

Constance Craving's Winter Festival of Fashions

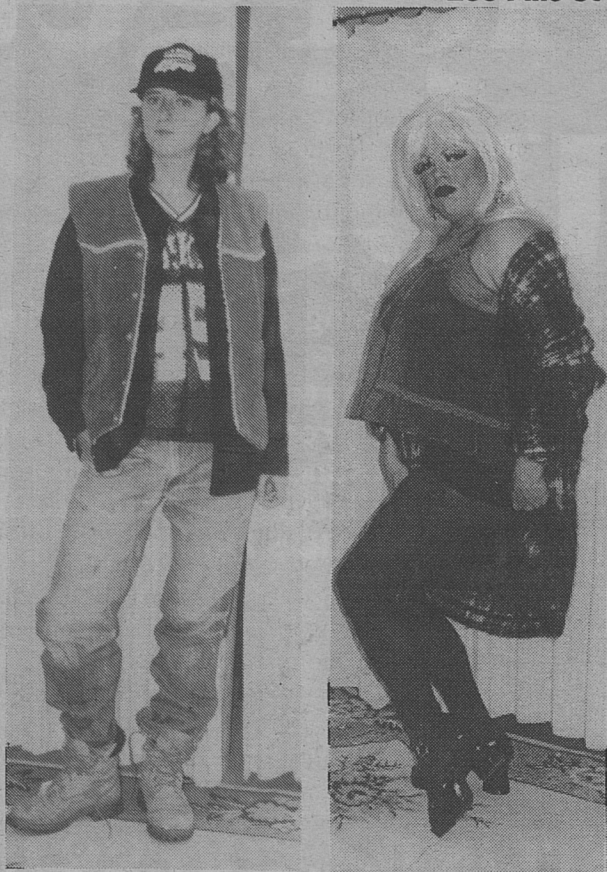

Now that the holidays are over there is only one other thing to look forward to this winter besides the end of it. WINTER IS A DRAG 3: Freedom To Mary

OITM has taken a few models to five area clothing stores to look at what the offerings are for D R A G !

The Garment Gallery 266 Pine St

"Russ" has found comfort and style for the long haul, worn levis ($5) work boots ($10) a red plaid wool shirt ($10) Huskies Football shirt ($9) and suede vest ($26). She might have to take off her JIB Boise Trucking hat ($2) for the Drag King crown, either are an acceptable accessory.

Yolanda on the other hand has found the warmth of a green plaid wool over coat ($60) will keep her warm when underneath she is ready for anything in her Red lace Teddy ($5) and brass belt ($5)

The Classy Closet 1432 Williston Rd.

Russ moonlights, shall we say, when not driving the big rig. A green pimp hat replete with feathers ($) tops off an outfit that is all business. Brown leather Jacket ($55) Gold Chain ($5), Leather Sandals ($6), gold Wire Belt ($10) Rayon patterned Shirt ($8) and Polyester quasi Bellbottoms ($7). The seventies live!

Yolanda is unstoppable, and a gal on the go. Blue Sequins ($25) bring out more than her eyes, with a light blue wire mesh hat ($12). Winter is just an inconvenience with a white Faux Fur coat ($45).

Second Hand Rose 84 Pearl St

Drew will be the bridesmaid at the Freedom to Mary Ball. The gray Faux Fur ($12) will keep him warm and fashionable, and cruelty free, as well as free to wear his dark blue satin dress with bead work ($25), all topped off with the simplicity of a blue paisley scarf ($2)

Jess is sleek and stylish in the old stand by, the gray three piece pin stripe suit, ($28) If she wasn't Drag King '97, she would be a definite contender for the crown in '98.

The Shoe Horn Church St. Marketplace

Accessories, Accessories, Accessories. Muro Leopard Platforms ($140) all the way from London and a leopard Hat ($35) top off any ensemble for a cold but fashionable valentines Ball.

Battery Street Jeans 182 Battery St.

Jess has opted for the versatility and playfulness of Skaterboy drag. Whether at the skate park, the drag ball, or working for political change, this outfit says, "get outta my way." The Drift Jacket ($112) and slacker hat ($12) top off a junior-Olympic sweat shirt (16$) and of course Jeans and Hanes underwear.

Drew is wearing a form fitting sparkly black dress ($7), offset with the simplicity of a red boy scout hat ($5) and a pair of Eidus Sunglasses ($6). Whether meeting with the Governor or casting a spell, this ensemble gets attention.
