The OITM Travel Guide

Introducing the newest feature in OITM, a travel guide to our region. This new monthly section will help local businesses reach out beyond state customers, and also to get the word out to OITM readers around the region. In the future, look for articles and features that highlight places to stay and visit, as well as events and services for the visitor and resident alike.

OITM receives numerous calls every month from people looking to visit the region. To respond to these requests, we are offering a unique opportunity for your business to join the expanding list of satisfied OITM advertisers.
