

New England's West Coast
Pride Celebration
June 20, 1998
Burlington, Vermont
Waterfront Park

11:30am - THE RALLY

Let's get things started! Come down to Waterfront Park and hear the speakers on causes and issues that affect our community.

1:00pm - THE PARADE

Bring your car, your truck, your skates, your bike, your flatbed, your signs and banners and friends!! Follow the Bread & Puppet Resurrection Circus through the streets of downtown Burlington. Our route will take us up Main Street from Waterfront Park, left on Church Street, left on College Street and then left on Battery Street to return to the park. All floats and vehicles should report early to the area between Main Street Station and the entrance to Waterfront Park.

FRIDAY, JUNE 19, 8:00pm
PRIDE KICK-OFF CONCERT
DAVE HALL

& KATHERINE QUINN

St. Paul's Cathedral

Cherry and Battery Streets, Burlington, $7

Vermont native Dave Hall returns to his roots to perform a benefit concert for Vermont Pride '98. Since moving to New York City, Hall's received notice from Billboard Magazine ("natural breakout potential"), OUTmagazine ("strong'n'comfy vocals" and "all aglow with the sweetness of ordinary experience") and also wide playing time on college and alternative music stations. Gay and out, Dave's music is informed by the perspective of his sexual identity without being defined by it. But his "Zoe and Chloe" tells the sad tale of a lesbian couple "struck down in their prime and pride / By some redneck crackers with the world on their side." Opening up the evening will be Katherine Quinn. Seven Days says, "Katherine Quinn is a folksy chanteuse who'll give you a real estrogen lift." She paints landscapes with her words and leads the audience through them with her vocals. "Funked up Folk" could also be used to describe Quinn. This evening's entertainment will not only kick-off Pride Weekend, but will also help raise funds to pay for many activities planned. Thank you for your support.
